The Titian Tender from Cockwells is a bespoke vessel with lovely lines and an intricate design.

By Kevin Koenig

OFTENTIMES the difference between success and failure comes down to nailing the details. It's a concept Cockwells understands well. Take the British builder's latest launch, the Titian Tender. This 34-foot retro beauty has bespoke carpentry, original fine art in her interior, and stainless-steel fittings. Those are just some of the little things that set her apart. And with twin 320 hp Yanmar 8LVs pushing her along, she's not just for show — she's also forgo. • Whom It's For: The Titian Tender is for the experienced owner with refined tastes and an eye for classic design. • Picture This: Your yacht is moored off the coast of Corsica late one summer morning when you get a taste for a specific bowl of zuppa corsa you discovered at a hole-in-the-wall café last year. Your captain offers to take you ashore, but you wave him off. With her twin jet drives and dynamic positioning system, the Titian Tender is a joy to drive, and you'll be taking the wheel yourself. ♣
