COCKWELLS

Their reputation for creating head-turning bespoke superyacht tenders that surmount any design challenges presented by the parent vessel is second to none. Whether you have a preferred designer or would like to work with one of their recommended partners at Redman Whiteley Dixon or Wolstenholme Yacht Design, the team will produce a vessel that is sublime in every detail – exquisitely finished and distinctly yours. One such example is the Titan. Combining durable composites with the resilience of yellow cedar and the sleekness of teak, the custom tender is not just another beautiful bespoke boat from Cockwells but a modern masterpiece of artisan craftsmanship and technical ingenuity of the highest order.

RIB-X

The Rib-X design team constantly push the boundaries of technology and design to achieve your ultimate custom tender.

Using the latest CAD software every design and engineering challenge is resolved and tested to give you full peace of mind, from delivery to the day you upgrade to your next Rib-X. Established in 2003 Rib-X continues to be lead by Colin Baldwin. Colin, a former Research and Design Engineer at Jaguar Cars has an eye for the finer detail. He has embedded and embodied the values of innovative design and exceptional quality at Rib-X. Famous for their SOLAS range their leading edge designs are developed by the same in-house design team responsible for their extensive bespoke superyacht portfolio. Innovation, safety and quality is integral in all SOLAS designs, available as RIBS and hard boats, with some very interesting leading edge D tubing designs, means that safety can still be styled.
